

Costes

A new project for a collection that meets all your comfort needs

The Costes collection for 2016 is adding a new design that preserves the essential, harmonious traits of the family: a modular sofa made from natural teak with painstaking attention to detail, designed to bring life to the most varied lounge compositions with important dimensions, also ideal for enhancing the most spacious outdoor environments.

Costes is one of the collections that most enhances the quality of materials and colours of wood, with products available in varnished mahogany, suited to modern contexts, or with a pickled teak finish, with a charming vintage appearance or even made from natural teak, warm and stylish.

With a wide range of elements, ranging from sofas to the round table with a lazy Susan in the middle, from dining chairs to sun loungers, through to the large 3-metre table, Costes is now Ethimo's most versatile collection, able to offer all solutions for public and private environments, whatever their signature style.
